this book is a result of the times in which we are living these times demand a response when the authors began to write this book it was not popular to dissent against the bush administration in fact dissent was and still is equated with terrorism now it might seem that the tide is turning and maybe after the 2008 election some of this nightmare we have been experiencing will change at least that is the optimistic view but there are small traces that the struggle the authors discuss in this book will continue well into the 21st century the intermingling of the political and the religious is still swirling in the present context the civic gospel as the authors discuss it is the notion that preaching the gospel is preaching politics and vise versa this book is about that struggle and the issues related to it
