the late president of egypt gamal abdel nasser 1918 1970 has been represented in many major works of egyptian literature and film and continues to have a presence in everyday life and discourse in the country omar khalifah s analysis of these representations focuses on how the historical character of nasser has emerged in the egyptian imaginary he explores the recurrent images of nasser in literature and film and shows how nasser constitutes a perfect site for plural interpretations he argues that nasser has become a rhetorical device a figure of speech a trope that connotes specific images constantly invoked whenever he is mentioned his study makes a case for literature and art to be seen as alternative archives that question erase distort and add to the official history of nasser

this book examines cold war relations between egypt and the united states the author argues that nasser s responses to security and political threats in the middle east and north arica conflicted with america s postwar strategy in those regions the author focuses on how the failure of american egyptian diplomacy endangered the postwar petroleum order and facilitated the outbreak of the six day war this book offers a brief broad comparative study of ethnic politics that places ethnic conflict within the context of particular political systems to develop these themes they are explored by comparing and contrasting the experiences of france czechoslovakia and its subsequent division and nigeria the global 1960s presents compelling narratives from around the world in order to de center the roles played by the united states and europe in both scholarship on and popular memories of the sixties geographically and chronologically broad this volume scrutinizes the concept of the sixties as defined in both western and non western contexts it provides scope for a set of analyses that together span the late 1950s to the early 1970s written by a diverse and international group of contributors chapters address topics ranging from the socialist scramble for africa to the naxalite movement in west bengal the troubles in northern ireland global media coverage of israel cold war politics in hong kong cinema sexual revolution in france and cultural imperialism in latin america the global 1960s explores the contest between convention and counter culture that shaped this iconic decade emphasizing that while the sixties are well known for liberation activism and protest against the establishment traditional hierarchies and social norms remained remarkably entrenched multi faceted and transnational in approach this book is valuable reading for all students and scholars of twentieth century global history this book historically surveys the contested poetics of space and place associated with the term homeland in the middle east balkans ireland south africa and germany in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries these cases of contested homeland discourses are contrasted with a case of non contention in sweden the contributors do not narrate events preceding the conflicts in these divisive areas of the world they offer and confront representations of homeland from multiple and at times unusual perspectives ambiguity and variety are one common denominator of this very uncommon collection these scholarly representations of homeland are saturated with the contradictions of imagination and culture they all contain a subtext concerning the role of the nation state and its relationships to multiple understandings of homeland in contemporary global cultures and politics the different and sometimes incompatible opinions voiced here are bound by a common hope to affect the current discourse on nationalism community homeland and exile
