metaphysics is a branch of philosophy that explores the fundamental nature of reality addressing the most profound questions about existence the nature of objects time space causality and the universe itself as one of the oldest areas of philosophical inquiry metaphysics seeks to answer questions that lie at the core of our understanding of the world and our place within it the term metaphysics derives from the greek words meta beyond and physika the physical reflecting the idea of examining that which transcends the physical world and investigates the very structure of reality at its core metaphysics asks what is there what is it like how do things exist and what is the nature of their existence these questions are timeless and their answers have evolved over centuries often influencing or being influenced by developments in other branches of philosophy science and theology in examining the nature of reality metaphysicians delve into topics like the nature of objects and their properties the concept of identity and change the structure of time and space and the possibility of alternate realities the scope of metaphysical inquiry is vast one of the primary areas it addresses is ontology which concerns the study of being and existence ontological questions include inquiries into the types of entities that exist whether abstract entities like numbers or concepts exist independently of human thought and whether the universe is fundamentally composed of matter or something more fundamental like energy or consciousness being a primer rediscovers our appreciation of being it does this by finding the dynamic of essence and existence that being requires this dynamic expresses itself in single beings in multiple beings and in sequential beings our acquaintance with being takes place across the whole of being by expressions that are as wide as being single realities in what are called by transcendental names each being manifest this for itself and others beings are similar to some others showing its likenesses and differences in relation to other singular beings beings dynamic of their essences and their existences does not just happen but occurs by each following others the multiplicity of beings shows itself by how the likenesses and the differences bring beings to be in succession not only all at once this structure of being permits some distinctive beings spiritual free and godly to be glimpsed as called for and from the primer of being as essence and existence the claim that god is timeless has been the majority view throughout church history however it is not obvious that divine timelessness is compatible with fundamental christian doctrines such as creation and incarnation theologians have long been aware of the conflict between divine timelessness and christian doctrine and various solutions to these conflicts have been developed in contemporary thought it is widely agreed that new theories on the nature of time can further help solve these conflicts do these solutions actually solve the conflict can the christian god be timeless the end of the timeless god sets forth a thorough investigation into the christian understanding of god and the god world relationship it argues that the christian god cannot be timeless through examination of augustine s account of the human relation to god matthew drever finds a crucial resource for a religious reorientation and revaluation of the human person contributed research papers presented at the annual sessions of the indian philosophical congress this volume represents the main papers delivered by both prominent and rising philosophers at the 1999 sofia conference in mazatlan mexico the volume contains 20 substantial papers spanning important issues of current interest including sexuality and consent rights and scarcity democracy and individualism and the nature of law and the value of punishment today the counter culture is in revolt against a visually dominated rationalism searching for the sub and trans rational dimensions of human experience which have long been submerged by the dominant culture the new movement is laying the experiential base for a recovery of the meaning of spirit and consequently for a rebirth of metaphysics this unusual collection of original philosophical papers confronts the future of metaphysical thought in light of this developing situation part i of the book scans the contemporary spectrum of metaphysical orientations from linguistic analysis and process philosophy through phenomenology existentialism and scholasticism to neo hegelianism and oriental thought part ii focuses on the relationship between metaphysics and various areas of human concern language logic science value society and religion publisher
